The iron pots of Gondricourt

Just after daybreak a traveler along the narrow byways of a small French village can see the housewife beginning her day. Through the open doorway her fireplace glows like a forge. A heavy iron pot, which she has filled with water from the town pump, is lifted and swung upon the crane. At the other end of the village, perhaps, runs the little stream where she washes her family's clothes upon the rocks.

rope, such pictures are multiplied by thousands. Quaint, to be sure, but what grinding and incessant toil these primitive household arrangements mean!

In contrast to this, even the remote districts of America boast comfort unknown to the rural life of other countries. Conveniences are found that could not be duplicated in any save the wealthiest city homes of foreign nations.

Adequate heating systems, the farm lighting plant, the washing machine, the vacuum cleaner, the telephone, and numberless laborsaving devices have lifted modern life in America to unprecedented levels of comfort

A GAY LITTLE HAT AND SCARF SET ANY GIRL WILL FIND EASY TO MAKE

There is nothing a girl can have made from two pieces, the circle play while on the run. I realize that is more stylish than a hat to cut 6½ inches across and a bias strip match her dress—unless it is a scarf 21 inches long. Sew them together that matches too. EDDIE COLLINS TELLS HOW HE MAKES A DOUBLE PLAY.

Be in handling than it will be with hard to be calleted some of these quanties as a position to receive the throw throwing.

2 position to receive the throw throwing. How Do You Make a Double Play at Second Base?

The success or failure of a double play depends mostly upon the execution of the play by the middle man at second base. Failure on this individual's part to handle the ball fast means a loss of the play at first base. In order to handle the ball fast, he must be in the proper position to handle it and in order to be in this position it is most es-sential that he reach the bag IN TIME to receive the throw from the fielder to whom the ball was hit. He should avoid making this of a Slump? I think the answer to this can be summed up in one word! Per-severance. Slumps in baseballparticularly noticeable in battingare bound to overtake every player some time or other. Their coming s unexplainable — their presence most distressing, and often dangerous, as the contagion is apt to spread to other members of the team. The only cure I have found is just keep plugging along and you are sure to come out of it if you keep trying. It frequently happens that a player will go to bat fifteen or twenty times, which means normally, three or four games without getting anything like a base hit. Under such eireumstances, when it has happened to me, I try to do Belgians, something different. I try to bunt Broth or make a pitcher work down to the

Helen had very poor health when she was small, so her family kept her outdoors a great deal. She was known as a delicate child up until she was nearly eleven.

She's pretty as well as athletic, with a small, up-tilted nose, big dark brown eyes, dark brown hair, and a healthy brown complexion. She has the sparkle in her eyes that goes with so much running and jumping and being outdoors all the time.

Breaks Own Record

Another sixteen-year-old is Katheryne Lee, of Wells Park, Chicago. Last September at the A. A. U. national championships she cleared the bar at 4 feet 10% inches. which is seven-eighths of an inch better than the former record. Later she broke her own record, and set a new mark of 4 feet 11 inches. Wouldn't our great-grandmothers have held up their silk-mitted hands in horror if they could see Helen coming over the hurdles! How unladylike! Yet track meets for girls are becoming common everywhere, and other girls besides these two are turning their eyes to the 1924 Olympic games in Paris, for there will be many girls competing.

Track for Girls Is New . Track meets for girls is a pretty new thing, especially when held in connection with the big track meets for men. The girls have discarded bunglesome bloomers and wear running suits which do not hamper

This is the day of young champions in many sports. Helen Wills, the women's tennis champion, is only eighteen. She won her matches against women many years older than herself. She-had begun starring in tennis when she was still in high school and won the girls' junior championships for two years, her fifteenth and sixteenth.

Girls Star in Golf

In golf, also, the stars are becoming younger. It is very likely that the next woman champion in this sport may be yet in her teens. And nowadays girls can win just as much newspaper fame in sports

A SUMMERTIME SLED

Yep, it sure is comin' and all the ice and snow of winter is an old story. Here is a little coaster sled, however, which is especially made for summertime coasting. It's made out of roller skates and a few boards.

I didn't put any dimensions or particulars of the thing in the draw-ing because the drawing shows pretty well how the thing is made, and anyway, you'll prebably want to make yours a little different from the way I made this one.

You can pick these things up and flop down on them very much as you would do with a regular winter-time sled. They will be a little ricky to manage at first, but after a few rides you will be able to go scooting around the corner without slowing up a bit.

As you will notice. I haven't put any brakes on this one, but you can fix up one easily if you want it.

The lumber industry claims that fire is fully three-fourths of the reforestation problem. The figure may he exemperated. But thus is true: Give nature a chance and she will to considerable extent replace the ripe timber just as she has been doing for countless ages. New growth comes naturally. Give nature assistance by planting systematically, and the danger of a timber famine will be within control.

The area of forest land swept by fire each year is about twice the area cut over annually by logging

There are $6,000 forest fires in the United States every year-about 100 a day. These fires not only destroy mature timber, they also prevent or injure new growth. normal loss by forest fires is estimered at 17 mellion dollars a year. Whenever you walk in the woods or putch a camp, be extremely careful of starting forest fires. A glowing match or compette tossed carelessly away, or a campline not exon leaving, may cause militone of dollars worth of loss.

That is how you can help make sure there will be an ample supply of timber for the future. It is one of many thoughts that should be condered during forest Week, beginning April 21. As for the lumber industry and the govern ment they are beginning to realize that crops of trees should be planted systematically, the same as wheat, corn, cotton and represbles.

Thinking is very hard work for most people. Their brains would function except by necessity. Thei's why nature gives us so many complex problems to solve-she's tryong to make us think. So far, she only fairly successful.

In 1818 Thomas Jefferson wrete to a friend: "A great obstade to good education is the inordinate passion prevalent for novem and the time lost in that reading which should be instructively employed."

Jefferson was wise, but in this be didn't get to the roots. The reason people shun books of learning is because they re usually hard to read and as uninteresting as dust. Wells Thomson and Van Loop, by popularizing history and science, have recently demonstrated that prople will 'ent up" knowledge if presented interestinging

Fifteen years ago the consumption of crude oil in America was two barrels a year for every man, woman and child. Now the figure is six and a half barrels a year.

There is still a tremendone reserve of oil underground. But it is being drained steadily, and nature is not replacing it. Some experts predict a abortage of oil within 20 years. What then? Science will answer, Alcohol may take the place of gasoline, for motor fuel, long before the oil is exhausted.

RAILROAD CHIEF WANTS LA FOLLETTE AS CANDIDATE

Warren S. Stone of Ohio is the head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, he is head of their great bank in the City of Cleveland, and he is one of the most influential labor spokesmen in the civilized world.

This veteran leader of organized labor believes that both of the old parties will be drowned in oil in the coming presidential election and hopes to have the opportunity to support Senator Robert M. LaFollette at the head of a third ticket.

Warren S. Stone until this year has never favored a third party. This was his startling declaration at the close of a labor address in the City of New York: "I believe you may see an forested, just as a large portion of independent candidate for the presidency. Perhaps this man will be Senator Robert M. LaFollette, although I am not sure and have no authority to speak. I hope to live long enough to have an opportunity to vote for him myself."

Now why should LaFollette, the master of the American congress and the maker of its laws, head a third party? If he is to be the supreme boss of the senate and the house, posing as a republican, why should be throw it away on a slim chance.

LaFollette has scant respect for President Coolidge. He has scant respect for the leading democrats who are candidates for presidential nomination. His friends say that he will lift the pressure and make known his intentions at an early date.

Should he become the leader of the third party movement he will have the backing of the farm-labor party in Oklahoma. Under which flag will the farmer-labor party of Texas line up after all the nominations have been made?

He again demonstrated the value of printers' ink made use of in the right way. This is a hint that should be taken home by campaign managers in Texas. Instead of sending out millions of circulars which are thrown into the wastebaskets they should conduct newspaper advertising campaigns and conduct them intelligently.

Men and women who read newspapers go to the primaries. Men and women who do not read newspapers are usually not interested in public affairs. Strassburger knew and he put it

Col. E. M. House is said to be very friendly to the McAdoo cause, his sister is very active in the Smith cause and this makes! it interesting all around. When it comes to playing the political game the women are catching on rapidly.

The marriage of Dolly and Nigel Bretherton provas unhappy. When war is declated, Nigel is gind to enlist. He leaves Dolly under the care of Mary Furnival. Nigel is killed and Dolly marries an old sweatheart and sails with him for America.
Whan Nigels brother, David, calls to see Nigel's widow, Mary is ashamed to 'tell him of Dolly's marriage.
David mistakes Mary for Nigel's wife and takes are to live with his aunt at Red Grange. Mary is happy in her new home until Monty Fisher exposes her to David. Mary disappears.
Monty's sister, Dora is issaious of David's attentions to Mary. Dora

TAX PUBLICITY BIG ARGUMENT

Opponents of Provision To Urge Veto

By United Press.
WABHINGTON, May 24.—Provision in the new compromise tax bill for limited publicity of tax records is expected to be the main argument of those who will arge a veto of the measure on President Coolbige. The clause which permits the amount of taxon paid by individuals to be made public, as well as names and addresses, is being made the piretal point of attack on the bill. Chalrman Smoot of the finance committee describes the text of the provision as follows: 1. The name, address and amount of tax paid by each tox payer shall be posted in the postoffice and open public inspection there.

2. The board of tax appeals shall have open hearings in contested cases where more than $10,000 tax is in-3. All tax records shall be open tern and repair work.

to secret inspection by the house wars and means committee and the senate fibance committee to be made public at their discretion. The . names and addresses of tax payers are made public under the existing law and the new bill mereauthorizes district collectors to add the amount of tax poid to the public records. The bill does not per-mit inspection of the tax returns to determine how the amount of tax paid was arrived at, and according ly, its advocates claim, cannot give great aid to a business man's com-

NO KLAN ISSUE FOR G.O.P. PARTY

Watson Sounds Policy Keynote in Indiana

NEW YORK, May 24.-The republican party will reject the Ku-Klux Klan as an issue of the forthcoming nresidential campaign.

For many years the party keynote sounded at the republican state convention in Indiana preliminary to the national convention has been accepted at the foundation stone of the G.O.P. national campaign policy. And, is sounding the keanote of the Hoosier state republicana yesterday, Senator

Watsen took this position: "If a man is nominated for office on the republican ticket, we don't care if he is a klansman or a Catholic-we're for him."

This Le emphasized the statement of President Coolidge made recently that party organizations and party regularity are the prime factors in party success. According to Watson and by inference, according to Coolidge, the klan-issue has no place in party conalderations when party regularity is the prime requisite. Coolidge, himself, is expected by republican lenders to make this clear in response to have demands made upon him for a statement of his position on the klan.

In the democratic party the kian issue bas grown to some proportions through threat of Senator Underwood, a candidate to take a stand on possible nomination of an anti-klan candidate and the democratic party making the klop an issue during the campaign there is every reason to believe now that the republican party will ignore the challenge.

The Indiana republican state platform, always a guide to the national party platform, makes no mention of the klan. It may be expected the Cleveland platform will follow a simflar course. Watson has forecast the republican attitude tot .rd those attempting to raise the klan as an issue,

Any good republican nominated by republicans for office, whatever be associations is deserving of the aupport of the republican organization.

Leaps Overboard, Kills Sharks Until Rescued

NEW YORK, May 24,-At the mercy of mon-eating sharks which infest the Gulf of Panama, Claremont I. Staden, an able seaman of the Standard Oil tanker, Frederick W. Weller, fought them off with a dick knife for 23 hours until he was picked up by the British freighter, Dorset. Staden was missed when roster was called April 22. When a search was made for the missing man, a note was found pinned to the pillow of his bunk. It read:

"Good-bye, Tanker F. W. Weller." His life belt and a large dirk knife were missing. The day after the tanker docked at Balbon a wireless was received from the Dorset that it had picked up Staden more than 140 miles out in the galf-still conscious. His life jacket was still fastence to him, and his dirk knife was lashed to his wrist.

Sharks had attacked Staden time and again, the wireless said. In attacking a shark has to turn on his back to give his undershot mouth with its rows of gaw-like teeth a chance to seize its prey. It was this that gave an opportunity to Staden to drive his dirk into the bonds of the attacking sharks. Once a shark is wounded and blood flows, his fellow creatures will seize upon the wounded shark and devour him. It was prob-ably this peculiarity which saved Staden from being enten.

The wireless from the Dorset said Studen had almost lost his reason, but he recovered after he had been put

Giants Find Knockout Punch With Baseball Chin Exposed

Rally Staged Now May Settle Flag Race for Season

By HENRY L. FARRELL United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 24.—One of the main reasons why the New York Giants is a championship team is they can always find a knockout punch when their chins are exposed.

The Giants have won three National League championships by doing their best work against the teams they had to beat In 1922 they won the pennant by taking five straight games in a crucial series with the Pittsburgh Pirates and last year they did the same thing by knocking; the Cincinnati Reds dead in a series that practically meant the pennant.

Before the champions landed in Cincinnati they had lost eleven out of the last 14 games and had almost forced their manager bome in despair, but when they lit the Reds they had a chance to make up the lest ground and they did it.

the first two games of the series getting back into the lend and shoving

They had two more games in Cinconnatt and even if they can do no better than square the series they will have scored a normal victory. It is unfortunate that the Reds have the opposite tendencies. They had a big punch for tight places in 1919 when they won the pennant by taking six games from the Giants in three days but since then they have been inclined to blow up when it was most urgent for them to play winning baseball.

Giants Staging Rally The rally of the Guants in Cincinnati was perhaps the outstanding feature of the week in the major

The Yanks also awoke after a snooze when the St. Louis Browns were snapping at their beets. The American League champions:

are hitting again, playing sparkling ball in the field and getting good pitching. The Boston Red Sox. by winnin 14 out of their last 18 games continue to be the biggest surprise of the year and wern to be getting pp in the first division for a race with the close contenders.

The Chicago Cubs are bioding for National League but the club is the ladies how they play, what kind playing great ball for Bill Killifer of cards they turn in, etc. and some of the scouts who have been around the circuit say they are the best looking club in the west.

Shields and lances were not worth so much as swords, but if a man had a shield and a good lance, be could get two cows for them.

Shields were usually made of tough wood. Sometimes there was a piece of iron at the center. Lances were light spears. They were tipped with iron and were buried at the enemy during battle. The German warriors had the haint of making a great noise when they went into the fight. They selled and shouted with all their might, holding their shields in such a way as to make the sound even louder.

From early youth, German boys were trained to get ready for the time when they would go to battle.

WHEN SWORDS BOUGHT COWS | They threw small lances and learned to zide borseback. Bows and arrows were used by the Germans when they went hunting,
